Overview	Our Intent for Music at this school contributes to the whole school curriculum intent by enabling students to explore music from different genres, eras, and cultures through listening, appraising, composing, and performing. The overarching intent of our curriculum for Music is to maintain and/or stimulate pupil's curiosity, interest, and enjoyment of music. Pupils will experience music through listening and appraising, performance, and composition spanning a range of eras, genres, and cultures. In addition to fulfilling the school aims Music courses and activities should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Broaden the musical experience of all pupils. • Reflect pupil's interests and aspirations. • Enable pupils to develop their potential through practical activities such as Listening, Performing and Inventing • Cater for all ability levels. The Music department has defined some core first-order concepts that we feel are essential to the development of knowledge and understanding. These are listening, appraising, composing, and performing. We teach Music via a series of carefully sequenced units which are organised around enquiry questions and the development of the substantive and disciplinary knowledge of the subject. The music curriculum ensures students listen, perform, create and evaluate. This is embedded in the classroom activities as well as various extracurricular clubs and opportunities. The elements and basic theory of music are taught in the classroom lessons so that students can discuss and evaluate how it is made up, performed, and appreciated. Students also learn and develop their instrumental skills through whole class performing and also within smaller group settings. Students also have opportunities to compose using different methods linking to and building on their performing, listening, and appraising skills. Endpoints for each unit, in terms of the knowledge we intend pupils to acquire, are clearly defined in the MTP and shared with pupils and parents/carers. Throughout KS3 departmental planning will identify the key knowledge concepts to be learned by pupils, embedded in long-term memory, and to be checked by teachers during lessons and via more formal assessment.	Continued enjoyment of music throughout the school. Continued uptake by students to study both KS 4 & 5 Music. Continued concerts and showcase events for all students involved in Music. Students with aspiration to study Music at higher education level.

Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion

area	what happens now	what we would like to see	link to actions
Overview	We seek to equip our students with an understanding of themselves, an appreciation of the world around them, and a desire to innovate and solve problems as active contributors to society. The Curriculum is a key way of meeting these objectives. It has been designed to meet the needs of each individual student, providing opportunities that stretch and excite. Throughout Key Stage 3 (Years 7 and 8), students follow a common curriculum which provides breadth and depth. We ensure that all students receive a rounded education and can progress with a good understanding of the range of areas of study which they might pursue in more depth as they progress through Key Stage 4 and into the Sixth Form. Homework should be set to meet these goals in delivering a challenging curriculum. This should be designed by each department to further deepen and broaden the knowledge and skill set of its students. All homework should be set on Google Classroom and is regularly checked by the Head of Department.
Special Educational Needs and Disabilities	KS3 Curriculum includes differentiated work, and differentiated Assessments that SEND students can access. The Head of Music is in continuous communication with the SEN Department, sharing each Unit's differentiated materials and activities.	SEND students continuing to study GCSE Music with support.
Financial hardship	-All Extracurricular Activities/Clubs are free of charge. -Pupils Premium are eligible for free of charge instruments lessons. -All GCSE and A-Level Music students are eligible for free instrumental lessons.	Students able to continue to play an instrument despite their financial situation
